Economic Developers Association of Canada 2015 President's Award

Hamilton, Ontario—

The President's Award was created to recognize and thank a standout individual who works humbly and devotedly in the background supporting EDAC and the progress of the economic development profession across Canada.

EDAC President John Watson, on behalf of EDAC's Board of Directors, CEO and staff, is pleased to have chosen this year's President's Award Recipient based on his continued support of EDAC and the economic development profession for nearly 30 years.

This year, we wish to honour Larry Horncastle for his involvement and dedication to EDAC as an active member since 1988 and his initial term on the EDAC board in the 1990's. Larry has also been a leader in championing the Ec.D. Certification program, proctoring and marking countless Ec.D. exams, as well as his tireless work to improve and edit Version 2.0 of the EDAC's Essentials of Economic Development Guide, and so much more!

During the Economic Developers Association of Canada's 47th National Economic Development Conference, Larry Horncastle, Ec.D., HLM was recognized with the 2015 President's Award for his exceptional dedication.

Congratulations Larry! Well-deserved.

John Watson, Ec.D.
